

The wide variety of Iran climates allows an extremely wide range of agricultural products.

Iranian fruits unlike other industrial countries are enjoying highly aromatic and extraordinary tastes which derives from the traditional and none genetic nature of Iran's agriculture. Iran is main origin and supplier fresh fruits and vegetable to Middle East and Russian markets. In past decades Iranian unique produces like Pomegranate is reached to Japan and Korean market and others like Kiwi is highly competing with New Zealand kiwi as well as great qualities of apples in Red and golden are very well recognized in world fresh markets. Many other kinds of stoned fruits and vegetables like Cucumber and tomato are being exported to neighboring countries round the year.
